

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL COMMENT	The soft regulation paradox	1
NEWS	Online gambling could be licensed • SEC targets spam scams • Regulatory systems should not be used to attract business • Sarbox prompts de-listing • Subprime fallout “limited” • Apple board stands by Job • Risks of hedge funds... • ... and of global rules • SEC faces governance scrutiny • IOSCO warns re hedge funds... • ... and looks into rating agencies • Credit derivatives - just what are they? • Accounting standards • China sets Basel II deadline... • ...and sees virtual money as a threat • Thailand seeks to calm foreign investors • Japanese PM wants financial regulation relaxed • S. Korea's Lone Star affair drags on • The tussle for ABN Amro - continued • Private equity only remotely risky • Former director of Bafin on fraud charge • Madrid regulator quits in a storm • Basel II likely to hurt traders • Plea bargaining considered for insider trading • ... a “softly softly” approach ... • ... or not? • Anxieties over “casino capitalists” • OFT will study bank charges • New hedge fund rules proposed • FRC reviews corporate governance code	3
NEWS ANALYSIS	Trichet warns against “stand-alone” supervision	13
TAKEOVERS	The clash of the Titans With Barclays and the Royal Bank of Scotland consortium fighting to buy ABN-Amro, Clas Wihlborg looks at the regulatory implications of Europe's biggest ever financial takeover battle	15
BRITAIN	The FSA – past performance As other countries look to copy the British model, David Lascelles looks at the highs – and lows – of the FSA over the controversial and event-filled ten years of its life	21
	The FSA – future promise Justin Keay looks at the challenges facing Britain's financial regulator as it moves to implement More Principles-Based Regulation (MPBR) against the backdrop of concerns about light-touch regulation and increasing EU directives	25
ITALY	The Roman Revolution As Unicredit & Capitalia merge to create Europe's second largest bank, Isabella Bufacchi looks at the ongoing transformation of Italy's financial regulatory environment.	31

THE Financial Regulator

Volume 12 Number 1 – June 2007

EUROPEAN UNION

The MiFID Approach

With just months until the one of the centrepieces of the EU's Financial Service Action Plan becomes law, Wendy Reed looks at the progress made to date

39

MONEY LAUNDERING

The money laundering chimera

The increasingly complex, multi-national character of money-laundering techniques is making the role of disillusioned and often resource-poor national authorities almost impossible, writes Nick Kochan.

45

2648
LASTED

HEDGE FUNDS

In the regulatory grey-zone

The regulation of hedge funds has become a hot topic in policy circles. Narayan Lakshman considers where the debate is heading

49

A financial stability perspective

Imène Rahmouni looks at the positive contribution made to market stability by hedge funds and suggests potential solutions to the risks associated with them

55

2648
LASTED

INTERNATIONAL REGULATION

The Fear of Freedom

Marc Quintyn and Michael Taylor consider why governments seem unprepared to give regulatory agencies the freedom to act independently

61

BOOKNOTES

Recent Financial Crises. Edited by Lawrence R. Klein and Tayyeb Shabbir: Edward Elgar, 2006. Reviewed by Bastiaan A. Verhoef

71

The Future of European Financial Markets by David G Mayes and others (Palgrave, 2006) Reviewed by Hans Blommestein.

Financial development, integration and stability – evidence from Central, Eastern and South-eastern Europe Klaus Liebscher, Josef Christl, Peter Mooslechner and Doris Ritzberger-Grunwald editors, Edward Elgar. Reviewed by DC Jajasuriya